vides VIPs with the utmost sense of well-being in their holiday properties. For Wasescha it's all about brokering well-being in its finest form.

Renting or buying a home has to do with emotions because situations arise where an initial idea does not correspond to what someone really wants or is craving. "Interviewing the client thoroughly at the very beginning is therefore paramount to my work," she says. Thanks to her 35 years of experience and intuitive technique, Wasescha has a keen sense of the client's dream.

Ultimate in comfort

Taking into consideration state-of-the-art research in the fields of healthy living, feng-shui and life coaching, her customers can be sure that they get offered the ultimate in comfort. A house is like a second skin and needs to be selected carefully. It is for this very reason that her interior design consultancy is highly acclaimed, among both new buyers and existing customers.

Wasescha's philosophy is basically in keeping with the sentiment that luxury means not having to be concerned with practical matters and allows being able to enjoy the perfect moment in the company of family and friends in the most picturesque surroundings. It means being completely free of worries, knowing that in the background there is a trustworthy partner who will divert all disturbances.
